We believe that it is a fundamental right of all consumers to have a complete analysis of the risks and benefits of any diet, test, drug, supplement, procedure or medical practice of any type before making a decision to proceed. This is not currently the way medicine is practiced, and we intend to change it.

About Wellness Forum Health

Our company specializes in InforMED™ Medical Decision-Making.

For consumers we offer:

- objective information about diets, tests, health conditions, and treatment options
- programs designed to help people transition to healthier diet and lifestyle habits

The InforMED™ Consumer has a clear understanding of risks and benefits of all health-related decisions and the ability to choose the best options for achieving, re-gaining, or maintaining optimal health, and can take an active role in making decisions about health-related matters. Becoming InforMED™ changes the definition of informed consent. Traditionally, doctors tell patients what to do (this is called informing), and patients say “ok” (we call this consenting). In our model of healthcare, doctors make suggestions, patients look at the risks and benefits of their available options and then inform the doctor of their choice.

For health practitioners we offer:

- training that includes specific protocols that lead to better long-term health outcomes
- access to informational libraries and tools that facilitate InforMED discussions
- educational programming to facilitate diet and lifestyle change
- affiliate and professional development programs that facilitate practice-building

The InforMED™ Practitioner engages in collaborative discussions with patients, and provides educational programming that empowers patients to take control of their health and to change their diet and lifestyle habits.

What Is InforMED™ Medical Decision-Making?

Being InforMED™ means the consumer is presented with objective information about a health-related issue in order to choose the best options for care. This includes all diets, supplements, tests, drugs, and procedures. This is very important since it is common for consumers to be told the benefits (often exaggerated) and not the risks (which are often significant) of health-related options.

WFH staff and associates have developed objective criteria and a system for looking at options for patients which include:

- Observe the Hippocratic Oath: First and foremost do no harm
- Treatment of the whole person
- Address the cause of disease
- When possible choose the least invasive option
- Acknowledge the difference between statistical significance and meaningful difference
- Drugs and procedures become the “alternative medicine” when diet and other non-toxic and non-invasive treatments do not work
- Study design, conflicts of interest, sample size, duration of follow-up, the extent to which research identifies a cause-and-effect relationship, selection bias, replication of findings, and other factors that influence reported outcomes.

When developing materials and programs for use with consumers, we use prescriptive communication, which means information is conveyed in a manner that is specific, can be well understood, leads to a desirable outcome, and is actionable. Prescriptive communication is the norm in some areas of healthcare. When dispensing pharmaceutical drugs, for example, patients are told how many pills to take, how many times per day to take them, and whether or not to take them with food. On the other hand, discussions of risks and benefits often use no written decision tools, and diet and lifestyle advice is often given using terms like “more,” “less,” and “moderation.”

In our experience, clear, concise and accurate information, usually presented in writing, is a major contributor to both patient satisfaction and better outcomes.

Why Join?

Wellness Forum Health is a self-funding organization. We do not take money from outside sources, including investors that might influence or dilute our message. We also do not take money from philanthropic organizations because we believe that they should be helping disadvantaged individuals. Our programming and services is paid for through membership dues and fees for services delivered.

Our founder, Dr. Pam Popper, has been actively involved in changing laws at the state and federal level regarding consumer access to better healthcare options and practitioners. She has also been involved in working to influence public policy in the areas of diet, health, and medicine. While articulate individuals can contribute greatly to the discussion, future success in changing laws and public policy will largely depend on the development of a large consumer group of millions of people who demand change. We need for you to be part of this group and to invite others to join too.

Joining Wellness Forum Health gives you access to unbiased information about diet, health; and medicine; provides you with tools to help you to achieve better health outcomes; and connects you with a group of like-minded people. Your membership dues support our continuing efforts to reshape and improve healthcare options and delivery.

Upon joining, we'll discuss with you your health objectives and how you can achieve them using our resources. You'll take our foundational "boot camp" courses - InforMED™ Health 101, 201, and 301, which help you to both become an InforMED™ Medical Consumer, and to make diet and lifestyle changes that lead to optimal health. And you'll be part of our movement for transforming healthcare – we envision a system based on evidence, honesty, transparency, cooperation, and which is focused on better outcomes.

We have already accomplished a lot! For example:

- We have developed the largest data base of InforMED™ Decision-Making resources in the world. We currently have over 3500 hours of programming and 2500 articles that help consumers to achieve better health outcomes, and practitioners to deliver better care.
- We have founded our own school in order to provide better training for health professionals. Our plan is to develop this school into a private college and to eventually establish our own medical school. We are leading the charge to force change in all areas of healthcare provider education.

- We have established a 501(c)3 foundation to fund research and to assist economically disadvantaged populations to access our programming.
- We have attracted some of the best business and most accomplished partners in the world in all areas of healthcare to assist us in growing our resources for both consumers and providers.
- We have developed effective programs for implementation at employer sites that both improve employee health and reduce employer healthcare costs.

But there is so much more to do! Here are just a few of the things we have planned for the future:

- A network comprised of thousands of health providers of all types throughout the U.S., all of whom are trained in InforMED™ Decision Making and offering evidence- and outcomes-based care.
- Development of accurate health assessment tools
- Data storage with complete consumer control at all times
- Member registry to allow data gathering from large cohort to further facilitate InforMED™ Decision-Making
- Insurance cooperatives to provide reimbursement for services delivered by network providers
- Wellness Forum Health clinics in employer and community settings

Our Ultimate Plan:

- To create a fully integrated alternative healthcare system based on evidence that will enable our members to use accurate assessment tools, have insurance coverage that pays for services actually proven to improve health, and have their information stored on our secure record-keeping platform.
- To connect members with doctors and other providers who have been informed by us and who are fully committed to our healthcare practice model.
- To teach members how to use diet and lifestyle changes and other effective strategies for improving health, and to provide continued support for InforMED™ decision-making and health maintenance.

Permanent Weight Loss: Not a 21-day plan, but a plan for the rest of your life!

Been overweight for a long time? Lost weight, gained it back again, and feel you're getting nowhere? Do you know what you are supposed to do but can't seem to make yourself do it or stick with it? You're not alone – most people are just like you. The reasons – we tend to spend time on the wrong things, and we get all excited about doing something for a short period of time rather than thinking about the long term. The fact is that anyone can do almost anything for a few weeks to a few months – the problem is what to do for the rest of your life!

Right now, you don't need another nutrition class, another program, or another temporary diet plan. You need a completely different approach. So instead of talking endlessly about what to eat (you know that already!!), or telling you to exercise more (you also know you're supposed to do that too!), we focus on the cause of the problem – the way you think about many things, like food, eating, your health, your priorities, and other important life issues. Changes in thinking can change behaviors, which then lead to changes in weight and health.

However, not all people are ready and willing to do the things that are necessary in order to conquer persistent issues with weight, habits, self-care, self-image, time management and other related challenges. Therefore, this program is not available to everyone; candidates must complete an application and agree to an interview to determine suitability for the program.

The application and interview process is designed to help you to both assess your own readiness for change and to understand what will be expected of you as a participant before making a commitment. While we know that the principles we teach can help people to change their lives, we also know that they only work for people who are ready to work hard, follow directions, make significant changes to the way they live their lives, and be accountable for their actions.

Tuition is $995 per 6-month period. This includes access to online video lectures, workbooks, one-on-one appointments, twice-monthly conference call sessions, and accountability reviews. Renewal to subsequent periods is not guaranteed and is predicated on ability to achieve measurable change in both habits and weight during each 6-month period.

If you are ready to take the first exploratory step, email shermank@wellnessforum.com for an application and to schedule an interview

Hot Yoga at Wellness Forum Health

Our hot yoga program is a very specific type of yoga involving 26 poses, all of which are performed twice in a 90-minute class. The room is kept at 105 degrees, and the humidity is set at 40% in order to promote sweating and detoxification.

The heat and humidity contribute greatly to the positive effect. This allows maximum muscle stretch while minimizing the opportunity for injury. You'll also sweat more (this is good for you!), your heart rate will increase (also good for you!), and you'll burn fat (even better!).

You can do it! It does take some time to get used to the heat. Your first goal is to get to the place where you can stay in the classroom for the full 90 minutes, and many students frequently sit and rest during their first few classes. This is fine – students can also learn from observing.

Our instructors are trained to teach and correct. Yoga is only beneficial if the poses are done correctly. Teachers frequently demonstrate, and walk around the room in order to make corrections. You will receive individual attention during class.

We are open 365 days per year. (including holidays). This means that you can take classes often and when yoga best fits into your schedule.

Our packages make yoga affordable. You can try us out for a week for only $15, and unlimited yoga is available for only $49 monthly (6 month commitment required).

Fitness at Wellness Forum Health

Both individual sessions and group classes are available at our private gym. We offer programs for everyone, ranging from those who just want to get in shape or remain that way to the professional athlete.

Operation Healthy Girlfriend (OHG)

OHG's mission: Operation Healthy Girlfriend empowers women to build strong connections with other women in order to support their journeys through life and toward better health.

How it works: Each chapter starts with an enrollment period, usually 4-6 weeks. At the end of this period, the chapter is closed, confidentiality agreements are signed, and the fun/learning/support begins. The group meets 12 times per year for sharing; facilitated discussions about personal, family, and health issues; and discussion. OHG supports a national charity, the Feeding Hungry Children Backpack Program, which provides food for economically disadvantaged children for the weekend when breakfast and lunch at school are not available. OHG members also work together to improve community health, starting with themselves and their own centers of influence.

Why join? Because life is about human connections, and they are increasingly more difficult to make in today's busy world. When women join OHG, they'll spend time regularly with a group of trusted women (all sign confidentiality agreements) who share with one another their aspirations, disappointments, victories, and other aspects of life in order to help one another to enjoy better, healthier lives. If you are interested in making new friends and changing your life and your health in meaningful ways, join our trusted community and let us help you! Change your health, change your life, help us change the world!
