Long-time subscribers know that one of my areas of interest is World War II. I think it is one of the most fascinating times in history, and new stories are still being told about both the terrible things that happened in Europe under Hitler's tyrannical rule and the amazing acts of bravery that saved hundreds of thousands of people from death.

I've stated several times during the last 16 months that the criminals behind the COVID debacle seem to have been inspired by Hitler and his followers. They are, in fact, using some of the same strategies that the Nazis used. Here are some examples:

Censorship. Joseph Goebbels was a key member of Hitler's inner circle and the Nazi party. As Minister of Propaganda, he helped the Nazis to gain control of newspapers and radio stations so that the only information available to Germans was "approved" by the government. Foreign radio broadcasts were eventually deemed illegal. Goebbels also took control of all forms of media in countries Germany invaded and conquered. In this way, the Nazi's were able to manipulate public opinion about Germany's plans for the future and the war by controlling citizen access to information.<sup>1</sup>

Today, ANYONE who questions or reports or writes anything contrary to the government's narrative on COVID-19 is strictly censored. My YouTube channel has been censored four times since this began. The most recent episode took place on Friday July 9. We try to avoid posting information that upsets the authorities on YouTube and only post that information on alternative channels (at least for as long as those are available). One of my colleagues accidentally posted information our rulers would not approve of, quickly realized what happened and removed the video right away. But not fast enough – the censors at YouTube deemed a fully referenced article on Chinese vaccine development as a violation of "community guidelines" and suspended our posting privileges for a week. Other censored videos posted on my channel included referenced information about masks, and an update on our litigation.

I'm not the only target. People far more qualified than I am - well-respected medical doctors and researchers – are censored just as much. Hitler and Goebbels would be proud of the level of control health authorities and the government currently have over the media.

Favored Businesses. The first major action taken against Germany's Jews took place on April 1, 1933. German citizens were ordered not to shop at Jewish-owned stores, seek medical care from Jewish doctors, or hire Jewish lawyers. Referred to as the "Judenboykott," this took place long before the war and massive deportation of Jews and other groups of people the Nazis did not like to labor and extermination camps began.

The Nazis created lists of Jewish businesses and stationed uniformed Nazis and Hitler youth outside the shops to intimidate and threaten people who tried to enter. What is most astounding is the number of non-Jewish Germans who agreed to boycott these businesses, and even vandalized them and harassed Jews, seemingly caught up in the frenzy instigated by the regime. Overall, society seemed to go along to get along, deferring to Nazi rule. This was just the beginning, and by allowing this to happen, almost all Jewish businesses in Germany were closed by 1938.<sup>2</sup>

During the last 16 months, governments all over the world determined which businesses would be allowed to continue to be open and which would be closed in order to “control the spread of the virus.” Stores like Walmart and Target that sold shoes and clothes and housewares and furniture and books were allowed to be open. Smaller stores that sold these very same items had to be closed – because the government said so.

Furthermore there were rules for entering “approved stores” which included masks and in some places being subjected to a temperature-taking device. The general population in most countries had already become so willing to follow “government orders” that no government employees were required to stand outside and enforce “the rules.” Stores gladly charged their own employees with conducting enforcement activities at entrances, and some were demonstrably excited about their new responsibilities. Many citizens took it upon themselves to berate anyone who managed to get past the Nazi-like guards at the door without the “required” mask.

While many Germans went along with Hitler’s plan, he would have been astounded at how easy it was for government to start bankrupting the middle class and small business owners – otherwise known as “non-essential businesses,” and how many citizens would join the government regime and help to accomplish these goals.

Identification of specific groups of people.

One of the most horrifying books I’ve read about the Nazis and their extermination program is IBM and the Holocaust by Edwin Black. It’s a long and very well-documented book about how IBM collaborated with the Nazis to form a subsidiary corporation in Germany in order to collect data on citizens. The subsidiary then hired thousands of employees to conduct a census that included questions about race and religion. IBM also developed a machine to gather and sort the results (the IBM punch card system). Names of Jewish people could be cross-referenced against employment records and financial institutions. Ration cards for food were allocated based on these databases, and when the government decided to start rounding up Jews for deportation to labor and extermination camps they were easy to find.<sup>3</sup> This program was instituted in every country that Hitler invaded.

Biden recently announced the federal government's door-to-door program designed to "convince" people who have not yet been vaccinated to agree to the jab. And Xavier Becerra, secretary of Health and Human Services, stated that the federal government is entitled to know who has and has not received a COVID-19 vaccine.<sup>4</sup>

This should frighten all thinking people – a lot. A Lake County government document titled "Community Health Ambassador Outreach Door Knocking Project to Increase COVID Vaccine Acceptance provides instructions for the government employees who will be calling on citizens. These include:

- "Ignore no soliciting signs. You're not soliciting! You're offering critical information and resources."
- "Report on your work! Be sure to fill out the Doorknocking Spreadsheet with the counts of who still needs a vaccine, who is already vaccinated, who needs more info, etc. This is important information that the Health Department is relying on!"

The document also instructs these people to lie to property managers and if asked "What information do you need from the residents?" to reply "Absolutely nothing. I won't be asking any personal information, not even their name." The spreadsheet includes address, building number, floor number, apartment number and "contact information for follow-up."<sup>5</sup> I think we can all assume that "contact information" means "the person or persons who live there."

What might the government do with this "contact information?" The Center For Rural Development provides some clues. This is posted on the organization's website: "This 8.0-hour, instructor-led course is designed to provide the knowledge necessary to begin planning for situations requiring the isolation and quarantine (I&Q) of a large portion of a local, rural population. This training will provide public- and private-sector emergency managers, community policy makers, public health, and public safety personnel with the general knowledge necessary to begin planning for situations requiring the isolation and quarantine of a large portion of a local, rural population. A rural community's ability to collectively respond to an emergency requiring isolation and quarantine is not only essential to minimizing the negative impacts to the community at risk, but also to minimizing the long-term negative economic and health effects on the American public as a whole."<sup>6</sup>

As if all of this is not frightening enough, IBM, which has never been brought to justice for its crimes during WWII, is partnering with vaccine-maker Moderna to offer the Excelsior Pass in New York, which is required for admission to sporting events and large gatherings).<sup>7</sup>

The bottom line: We live in scary times. Some of us are committed to doing something about this and ignoring the obvious risks of taking a stand. Others are watching from the sidelines and hoping we succeed. I ask you to visualize a discussion with a grandchild or younger person 15 years from now about the COVID-19 debacle. What would you like to tell this person about what you did during these times? Here are the choices:

#1 "I sat back and hoped that someone would solve the problem. Getting involved was just too much for me. Fortunately, everyone did not do that which is why we all survived."

#2 "I could not let my community and my country be ruined by medical tyranny. I got involved took risks, had hives some days because I was scared, but I survived and our communities and our country survived and we were able to guarantee a future for you."
