David Wiseman PhD was a top bioscientist at Johnson and Johnson and now heads his own R&D company. He is one of the world's leading experts on internal scarring and pain and co-founded the first integrated clinic to address these issues. Dr. Wiseman has challenged many COVID policies, and has made 13 submissions to the FDA, CDC, and other government agencies on COVID-19. He is the coordinator for vaccine injury treatment for the World Council for Health and served as a panelist for one of Senator Ron Johnson's hearings.

Kelly Victory MD is a board-certified trauma and emergency specialist with over 30 years of clinical experience, and is an expert in disaster preparedness and response and medical management of mass casualties. She was an early proponent of aggressive outpatient treatment for COVID-19 and was one of the first doctors to promote a cautious and informed approach to COVID vaccines.

Dr. Steve Kebe is a retired pediatrician who has served as an investigator in multiple studies involving vaccines, formula and medications in the pediatric population. His initial enthusiasm regarding COVID vaccines for children quickly waned as learned more about them, and he now invests his time advocating for parents who do not want to subject their children to these experimental products.
